"The service provided has been the embodiment of consummate professionalism. Their ability to deliver a sterling service to our thousands of clients has been hugely complementary to our own business. Their flexibility and depth of knowledge in terms of providing a range of products of varying complexity to a widely diverse portfolio is simply invaluable.

We would have no hesitation in continuing to recommend the firm of Bruce Stevenson to clients and fellow firms in our industry, as we have done in the past."

"A first approach from Bruce Stevenson was met with a cautious response on my part. Despite our best efforts, we had failed to find high quality insurance partners. We have since established a strong and effective business relationship with customer service and accurate service delivery at its core. Quite simply I would say "#usethebest!"

"McClure Solicitors have been really impressed with the service and proposition from Bruce Stevenson. We had very specific requirements for the insurance proposition we wanted to offer to our clients. Bruce Stevenson took the time to listen and really understand our business so that we got the proposition right. But the service doesn't stop there – the ongoing reporting and feedback from a relationship perspective means we continue to move forward improving the service."

Why Bruce Stevenson?

As the largest independent insurance broker for property insurance in Scotland, we are committed to consistently delivering excellence and professionalism, which is demonstrated by our Chartered broker status. To put this into perspective, less than 10% of insurance brokers in the UK are Chartered, which naturally strengthens our position as Scotland's leading insurance broker.

Our Property team benefits from delegated underwriting and claims authority with a leading insurer; an exclusive arrangement where the insurer entrusts Bruce Stevenson to make key underwriting and claims settlement decisions on their behalf. This arrangement offers many benefits, the most notable being enhanced service standards in comparison to other options available in the market.

In addition to our delegated authority, we maintain strong relationships with a large open market panel of insurers, ensuring that we always deliver the most suitable solutions available in the market.

Our Property team places insurance cover on over £5billion in property sum insured each year, which highlights our excellent client retention levels and growing number of new clients.
